Stone & Chalk chairperson and Westpac director Craig Dunn will chair a new fintech advisory group launched today by the government.

“Although Australia is a leading financial services market in the region, the sector is becoming increasingly globalised and exposed to technological disruption,” said a statement issued on behalf of Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull and Treasurer Scott Morrison.

“Many traditional financial products are being disrupted by the FinTech sector, which is well positioned to become a leading player in the Asia-Pacific,” the statement said.

The group will offer guidance on boosting the fintech sector in Australia.

Along with Dunn, the group consists of:

- Matt Symons, Co-Founder and CEO, Society One
- Jason Yetton, former Group Executive, Retail and Business Banking, Westpac
- Nerida Caesar, CEO and Managing Director, Veda
